Vital Move Being Made To Bring Turkey Into Anti-Aggression Front

NEGOTIATIONS ARE ABOUT CONCLUDED

Chamberlain And Cabinet Meet To Discuss Critical European Situation

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 19.—A vital move to bring Turkey into the Anglo-French anti-aggression front was revealed today as Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's cabinet met to discuss the critical European situation.

The cabinet members also canvassed the possibility of appointing a minister of munitions. Well informed sources said such an appointment may be announced shortly as a means of increasing Britain's preparedness for war.

A munitions minister, if named, would be able to work in close concert in wartime with 12 regional "dictators" who, according to a previous announcement, would take charge of the nation should the European crisis result in a general conflict.

Pearson Furst, of Sumner avenue, turns up with the first big fish yarn of the season. Fishing a trout stream near Smithport, Pa., with J. K. Furst, Pearson pulled one in over 17 inches long and over three pounds in weight. In three days he netted 14 large ones and J. K. Furst got 12.

New Castle's clean-up week will be inaugurated on Monday. It is announced from city hall. Details of the plans for collection of cans, etc., will be found on page 9 of this issue.

Pa New is in receipt of a letter from a North Hill woman, strongly condemning the work of vandals who have twisted a lot of the street signs on Highland avenue out of shape, and urging that the city take some steps to have the condition remedied. "The condition of the signs is a disgrace to the city" she says.

Because a window was broken at 603 Superior street, John Ward complained to police and the lad suspected of having broken the window while at place has been asked to appear before Mayor Charles E. McGrath's boys informal court Saturday.

Vandalism already has started here this spring and police have been ordered to keep two eyes peeled for persons tearing plants from gardens. A report came from a South Mill street resident today stating plants had been removed from their yard.

Col. Lindbergh Begins Task Of Making U. S. 'Supreme In The Air'

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Armed with the aviation secrets of Europe's five major powers, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh today undertook the greatest task of a spectacular career—that of making the United States supreme in the air.

The hero of history's first non-stop solo flight from New York to Paris, a reserve officer, became a full-fledged colonel in the army air corps after a dash across the Atlantic from Paris in answer to a summons to active army duty.

Unprecedented Assignment

He was sworn in at the office of Maj. Gen. Harry H. Arnold, chief of the army air corps, and given an assignment of almost unprecedented nature.

General Arnold told Lindbergh to take an army plane, tour every research plant and important aircraft factory in the nation and then to tell the army what is wrong with its aircraft, how it compares with (Continued On Page Two)

Pair Of Bandits Foiled In Holdup

Restaurant Man On Long Avenue Puts Would-Be Robbers To Flight

PAIR FLEE WHEN HE SEIZES GUN

Courage of a West Long avenue restaurant proprietor at 1:15 a. m. today put two bandits to flight and in their wake, the proprietor, Paul Forzieri, fired three revolver bullets.

The would-be robbers jumped into a waiting auto and sped away in the darkness, according to a report made to police headquarters by Policemen H. E. Richards and David Nelson.

The bandits, one unmasked and the other who had his face covered with a handkerchief, entered the restaurant at 34 West Long avenue, while Forzieri was painting a counter.

Bandit Points Gun

The unmasked bandit pointed a gun at the proprietor and shouted: "This is a stick-up!"

Forzieri dropped his paint brush, reached beneath a counter and seized a revolver.

The bandit, fled through the door and went toward Long avenue and Moravia street.

The restaurant proprietor fired three shots at the bandits who jumped into an auto and sped away.

A call was sent to police headquarters. A radio message was sent to Policemen H. E. Richards and David Nelson who were cruising in a police car on the South Side.

They were unable to find any trace of the men, one of whom was described as 23 years old and five feet six inches tall and unmasked.

Berlin Reports "Far-Reaching Agreement" On Issues Has Been Reached

GERMANY CELEBRATES HITLER'S BIRTHDAY

Two Days Of Ceremonies Are Planned; Fleet Leaves For Visit To Spain

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, April 19.—A "far-reaching agreement" on outstanding issues between Germany and Rumania was announced today as the Nazi Reich began a two-day celebration of Chancellor Adolf Hitler's fiftieth birth anniversary.

Hitler's birthday actually is tomorrow, April 20, but festivities got under way today throughout greater Germany. In magnitude and Nazi showmanship, the celebrations will surpass all previous efforts.

During the morning, 190 bombing and scout planes of the latest type flew over the Chancellery, dipping a greeting to the Reichs-Fuehrer.

Civil Planes Banned

Flights of civil aircraft over Berlin from 7 p. m. today until 8 p. m. tomorrow have been banned. The announcement warned violators would be shot down.

Meanwhile, the government made it clear that it will refuse to accept the Anglo-French campaign of "encirclement" of Germany and Italy without a diplomatic struggle—from which Nazi authorities confidently expect to emerge victorious.

Another blow was struck in the drive to break the Anglo-French "anti-aggression" drive following the arrival in Berlin of Rumanian Foreign Minister Grigore Gafencu (Continued On Page Two)

HOLLYWOOD, April 19.—Overcome for the second time by sun-stroke, Bette Davis, acclaimed as Hollywood's No. 1 actress, collapsed on the set yesterday and has been ordered to bed until her condition improves.

The attack is less severe than the one suffered by the star last summer but, according to attending physicians, there is little chance of Bette returning to face the cameras before the end of the week.

An abnormal sensitivity to the sun is described as the reason for the actress' collapse.

Last Sunday, Bette, clad in a bathing suit, spent several hours in the yard of her Brentwood home. She felt no bad effects immediately but complained of illness on Monday and finally broken down on the sound stage where she was doing a scene for "The Old Maid."

The star's previous attack kept her in bed for almost three weeks.

Emergency School Measure Rushed To Desk Of Governor

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 19.—A $10,000 emergency school appropriation was rushed today to Gov. Arthur H. James for his signature as the strike of 200 school teachers against non-payment of salaries spread to a third township.

There were doubts, however, that the appropriation, which will be distributed by the department of public instruction, would be sufficient to take care of all demands from distressed school districts. The appropriation, unprovided for in the governor's budget, was passed finally yesterday by the senate, following earlier approval by the house.

Italy Calls More Troops For Duty

New Italian Army Reservist Class Is Being Mobilized Today

SEE REJECTION OF ROOSEVELT'S PLEA

(International News Service)

ROME, April 19.—A new Italian army reservist class mobilized today amid authoritative indications that Premier Mussolini will reject President Roosevelt's peace appeal.

That Italy will send no counter-proposals to Washington was flatly stated by Virginio Gayda, authoritative editor of the Giornale D'Italia, who wrote it was "infantile" for America to expect them.

Counter-proposals, said Mussolini's editor, are "impossible when the two countries are on such unequal planes."

Men of the 1913 class were called to the colors in a move increasing Italy's armed forces well over 1,000,000.

An estimated 40,000 troops were reported concentrated at Brindisi, ready for transportation to Albania to reinforce the present garrison of more than 100,000 Italian troops.

Mussolini's anticipated rejection of President Roosevelt's peace appeal will reach Washington via diplomatic channels. Il Duce's reply will provide "space for discussion" of economic factors, however, it was stated.

Officials Return From Harrisburg

Participate In Meetings Relative To Proposed Legislation In State

Mayor Charles E. McGrath, Councilman Joseph D. Alexander and City Engineer Glen E. Thron, returned last night from Harrisburg where they were Monday and Tuesday in connection with proposed legislation for Cities of the Third Class.

The mayor stated that officials of various cities made a plea for what they consider a proper share of the gasoline fund which is returned by the state to counties. Some cities now obtain a share through agreements, it was learned.

The mayor also said that officials discussed the treasurer's bond bill. They favor a fidelity bond. At the present time New Castle pays $2,045, a year for the city treasurer's bond, he stated.

Relative to the bill which would start police of third class cities at a certain amount, the call for raises over a period of years, was discussed. It was felt by some legislators this was a problem for cities to solve themselves.

Additional Relief Bill Is Nearer To Passage By Senate

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 19.—Legislation to appropriate an additional $9,000,000 for relief neared final passage in the senate today with state relief funds reported almost exhausted.

Two companion bills, also up for third reading and final passage, provided for the transfer to the general fund of $3,385,000 from the motor license fund and $1,500,000 from the fire insurance tax fund.

The $9,000,000 appropriation, already approved by the house and scheduled to go to the governor following senate approval, brings to $43,000,000 the deficiency relief appropriation for the present biennium, boosting the total relief appropriation for the period from June 1, 1937 to May 31, 1939 to $207,650,000.

The $43,000,000 transferred from state funds is to be repaid during the next biennium.

Deadlocked Coal Parley Negotiations Are Resumed

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 19.—With neither side apparently yielding an iota, deadlocked bituminous mine operators and mine union leaders today resumed their protracted conferences in an effort to draft a new labor contract for the Appalachian soft coal fields where 320,000 miners have been idle for three weeks.

Despite federal intervention to the extent of ordering John R. Steelman, chief of the labor department's conciliation service, to attend the sessions, today's meeting convened with neither Steelman nor James F. Dewey, also a federal conciliator, in attendance.

Sole development of interest was the arrival this morning of Lee Pressman, general counsel for the CIO. Pressman came here from Washington and, prior to today's conference, was closeted with John (Continued On Page Two)

French Liner Paris, Sinks At Le Havre Dock

Goes Down Suddenly In 40 Feet Of Water After Being Guttled By Fire

SABOTAGE HINTED IN SHIP DISASTER

Vessel To Be Refloated, French Officials Say; Damage Is Million And Half

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

LE HAVRE, France, April 19.—Amid increasing indications that sabotage may have been responsible for its destruction, the 37,000-ton French liner Paris sank today after being swept by fire at its dock.

Shortly after the vessel—once pride of the French line—went to the bottom in 40 feet of water, it was announced the famous French Surete Nationale (secret police) warned the French line two days ago that sabotage attempts "by a gang of foreigners" were expected against the liners Paris and the gigantic Normandie.

As a result, extra precautions were taken today to protect the Normandie and a rigid official investigation of the burning of the Paris was under way.

Passengers and cargo scheduled to have crossed the Atlantic aboard the Paris will be embarked tomorrow aboard the liner Champlain, it was announced.

Goes Down Suddenly

The Paris, which burned at its pier, went down suddenly in 40 feet of water after listing at a 30-degree angle and dragging away from its berth.

Firemen and members of the crew who were still fighting the flames when the vessel sank at 9:15 a. m. were thrown into the water of Le Havre harbor as the ship went down. They all were rescued, and authorities said the Paris will be refloated.

Expect Congress To Pass New Law On Stabilization

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 19.—In spite of a split in Democratic ranks and virtually solid Republican opposition, the house today headed toward passage of the currency stabilization fund and the president's devaluation powers.

Democratic leaders believe they can pass the measure by Friday, even though they conceded a possibility that the house might refuse to extend the president's authority to devalue the gold content of the dollar another nine per cent. Pointing to critical conditions throughout the world, they appealed to members to extend the life of the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund.

Move To Amend State Labor Act

Some Changes Are Projected

Proposals Are Placed Before State Legislature For Consideration

SOME IMPORTANT AMENDMENTS UP

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 19.—A Republican move to amend the State Labor Relations Act was before the legislature today, its most important change being to permit employers to petition for a labor board election between two disputing labor unions.

A similar revision of the National Labor Relations Act has been advocated by U. S. Sen. Robert Wagner, D. New York, father of the Labor Relations Act.

Another important revision in the state law asked in the senate bill of Sen. Weldon B. Heyburn, R. Delaware, would outlaw strikes in which one labor union sought employer recognition in preference to a rival union for collective bargaining purposes. Such a strike would deprive the offending union of its rights.

Another provision aimed at strike-breakers would bar from the labor act's provisions persons found guilty of violating the state's criminal law during a labor dispute.

The bill would bar the closed union shop by providing that employees shall have the right "to decline to join or assist a labor organization."

Unfair Practice
The bill would also class as an unfair labor practice an employer's refusal to bargain collectively with a majority of his employees. The law as it now stands permits an employer to remain within the act by bargaining collectively "with the representatives of his employees," which could mean a minority.

The bill also provides that labor unions shall not be certified as the bargaining agent when the labor board finds they have achieved a majority through intimidation or coercion of employees.

Of interest to craft unions was a proviso stating that the board's discretion in deciding what union shall represent employees "shall be exercised with due regard to the history of collective bargaining by craft unions."

The A. F. of L. has contended, insofar as the National Act is concerned, that the N.L.R.B. has been unduly favorable to industrial unions.

Certification of a union as collective bargaining agent without an election would be permitted upon proof by the union that it represented more than 80 per cent of the employees or in the event all parties agreed to waive the election.

The bill further provided that elections shall be by secret ballot, that all employees of the State Labor Relations Board be placed under civil service, and that they be barred from engaging in political activity.

Senator Heyburn said his bill was a "middle of the road" piece of legislation to settle the most outstanding objections to the State Labor Act as it now stands.

COL. LINDBERGH BEGINS TASK OF AIR SUPREMACY

Germany's air might and how the United States can get ahead, and stay ahead, of the world in the air. Lindbergh, who reputedly has seen more of the "inside" of Europe's fighting air strength in the past two years than any other living man, was given carte blanche to study America's present aircraft development, and then tell what the army air corps should do with its $300,000,000 aircraft expansion program.

Lindbergh, International News Service learned, was persuaded to break his self-imposed exile abroad and return to the United States to go on active duty in the army air corps by his friend, American Ambassador William C. Bullitt, at the army's behest.

This, an informed authority disclosed, was his sole reason for returning to the United States at this time.

Reveals Assignment

Still displaying a dislike for public notice, Lindbergh dashed into and out of the capital. He arrived secretly at the munitions building and conferred with General Arnold and other high air corps officials. It was not until Lindbergh had come and gone that Secretary of War Woodring late yesterday revealed that he had been called to active duty in the army air corps and given a highly important technical assignment.

Lindbergh had landed in New York from the liner Aquitania on Friday and had gone to the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Dwight Morrow, at Englewood, N. J. Nothing was known of his plans except that he had been invited to testify before congressional committees on foreign affairs studying neutrality legislation.

Announcement of his assignment, the first he has had since graduating from the air corps training school at Brooksfield, Texas, in 1925, surprised the military and diplomatic quarters. Lindbergh's task will be to undertake an immediate survey of the nation's potential air strength—governmental, educational and industrial—and to make a confidential report of his findings and recommendations to the chief of the air corps.

He began his job today, the air corps cooperating in maintaining secrecy around his movements.

RUMANIA AND GERMANY MAKE NEW AGREEMENT

for the celebrations of the fuhrer's birthday and for vital conferences with German officials.

Announcement Agreement

Announcement of the "far-reaching agreement on questions concerning both nations" was made after the Rumanian foreign minister and German Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop held a lengthy conference.

Later Gafencu attended an elaborate banquet with Von Ribbentrop and other prominent German military and civil officials. A number of industrialists also were present.

(Background Note: On Thursday of last week, British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain widened the Anglo-French military anti-aggression guarantees to include Rumania and Greece, thereby bringing those nations into the so-called "Stop Hitler-Mussolini" bloc. Yesterday, it was reported from Paris that Rumania's oil wells with the agreement of King Carol, would be set on fire in the event of war to deprive Italy and Germany of possible Rumanian fuel supplies. The current Berlin negotiations are definitely aimed at wooing Rumania away from the Anglo-French entente.

Von Papen Sent

Appointment of Franz Von Papen as German ambassador to Turkey was regarded as a decisive implication that he will be the spear-point of the Nazi-Fascist counter-offensive in the Balkans, where negotiations between Turkey and Britain are now actively proceeding.

Von Papen, who once was German military attaché in Washington, is an advocate of German colonial expansion and has received credit for preparing the way for German expansionist moves.

His greatest success was achieved in Austria, where he served as Chancellor Hitler's special representative prior to the Austro-German Anschluss in March, 1938.

Fleet Starts

Meanwhile, 40 German warships which assembled yesterday off Heligoland were enroute for "spring maneuvers" in Spanish waters.

The vessels will visit Cadix, Agadir and Malaga between April 27 and May 1, after which they will visit Ceuta and internationalized Tangiers. From May 6 to 10, they will visit Ferrol, A Corua Bay, Ponte Vedra and Vigo, whence they will go to Lisbon, Portugal. It was stated unofficially that Italian harbors would be the ultimate destination of the squadron.

Both Chancellor Hitler and Field Marshall Hermann Wilhelm Goering were back in Berlin today and Goering was expected to report to the fuhrer on his talks with Premier Mussolini and Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister, in Rome.

It was reported Goering discussed with Rome's authorities the forthcoming Italo-German replies to President Roosevelt's week end peace appeal, which was addressed to Hitler and Il Duce.

Two-Day Public Holiday
Today Hitler will receive Nazi keymen at the Berlin Chancellery. Tonight he will drive to the Brandenburg gate to open the Charlottenburger Chaussee in its new form. Later he will appear on the Chancellery balcony to witness a military ceremony and a short Nazi torchlight parade.

A two-day public holiday was declared in honor of Hitler's birthday, and towns and cities all over greater Germany are decorated for the occasion.

The Charlottenburger Chaussee, Berlin's so-called "East-West Axis," is a newly widened and rebuilt set of thoroughfares, affording unexampled traffic facilities in and out of the crowded German capital. The driveway extends from the Brandenburg gate at the head of Unter den Linden to the Adolf Hitler square some five miles away.

Hitler will dedicate the Chaussee in an elaborate ceremony.

The proceeds will be used for a worthy cause, going toward campships for Girl Scouts this summer. Any surplus will be used in outfitting one or more Girl Scouts for camp.

Included on the committee in charge of tickets are Betty Cole, Burden John, Jeanne Yogan and Ruth Stevenson. Miss Jean Cartwright has charge of the distribution.

ANGLO-TURKISH AGREEMENT NEAR, IT IS INDICATED

gotations was indicated when it was learned from a reliable British authority that a full Anglo-Turkish agreement was reached at Ankara late yesterday afternoon.

International News Service was informed the agreement provides for full military reciprocity between the two nations.

Under terms of the pact, Turkey will permit French and British warships to pass through the strategic Dardanelles during wartime.

It was understood, however, that the agreement does not mention Greece and Rumania.

Discussions between France and Turkey also have resulted in a virtual agreement between the two nations, it was said.

Details Kept Secret
Most details of the pact, nevertheless, are being kept secret at the request of the Turkish government to avoid German "repercussions."

It was considered likely that any formal announcement of the Anglo-Turkish agreement during the next few days would be confined to generalities.

(Background note: Negotiations between Great Britain and Turkey to bring the Turkish government into the "Stop Hitler" lineup have been progressing for several weeks. The German government yesterday appointed one of its most expert "trouble-shooters," Franz Von Papen, German ambassador to Turkey in an effort to keep that nation out of the Anglo-French bloc.)

Conclusion of the agreement with Turkey followed Prime Minister Chamberlain's announcement before the house of commons that Britain is vitally interested in preserving the independence of Holland, Switzerland and Denmark against possible aggression.

Thus automatically bringing these three nations under Anglo-French protection, Chamberlain made it clear that the government has entered no specific engagements to assist them.

FRENCH LINER PARIS, SINKS AT LE HAVRE DOCK

Chappelaine was en route to Le Havre to take charge of the situation.

The flames gutted the Paris, but authorities later estimated the total damage to the ship and cargo at less than $25,000,000 francs ($1,312,500).

Most Art Exhibits Saved
Famous French art exhibits, valued at $750,000 and destined for the New York World's Fair, were aboard the liner when the fire broke out, but authorities said at least three-quarters of them were saved without being damaged. No passengers were aboard the ship.

United States war planes, which were brought to France aboard the Paris were unloaded during the fire, but also escaped damage.

Authorities said the flames which gutted the ship—the finest of the French line fleet before the Ile De France and Normandie were built—began shortly before midnight in the ship's bakery.

When the flames broke out, the vessel was fully loaded with food, fuel and cargo for its scheduled sailing to New York.

One man, the chief of the ship's fire brigade, was killed at the height of the fire when he fell into a hold. A fireman was seriously injured in a similar accident, and three policemen were hurt.

The Paris sank opposite the Normandie's dock, making it necessary to cut off the Paris' masts, funnels and small parts of the super-structure to give the Normandie clearance.

Sabotage Suspicion
Because of the art exhibits aboard the ship, special precautions had been taken to guard the Paris, but the fire broke out despite these.

The rapidity with which the fire spread led to a strong suspicion of sabotage.

French authorities refused to confirm a report that an Italian dock worker had been detained for questioning in connection with the blaze. Officials denied any arrests had been made.

Built in 1921, the Paris is a twin-screw vessel powered with steam turbines. It has been modernized and refitted several times since its construction.

Today's fire was the second to break out aboard the Paris at its Le Havre pier. In August, 1929, the ship suffered damages amounting to more than $1,000,000 from a fire.

At that time French police were convinced the fire was set by saboteurs, but underwriters held a short circuit was the cause.

WOMAN'S CLUB AGAIN HEARS MRS. F. HANNI

That men as well as women appreciate a brilliant book review, was evidenced Tuesday evening when a large number of New Castle's representative leaders accompanied their womenfolk to The Castleton hotel to hear Frances Hanni, of Youngstown, give "The Patriot," by Pearl Buck.

Of course Mrs. Hanni early this season, won the high esteem of the women in this city through her reviews before the Woman's club. However when the men were heard to remark at the close of the review, "Well that was good," then it is beyond question, that Mrs. Hanni's popularity in New Castle, is well established.

Her charming personality and poise win instant approval. Add these attributes to a remarkable memory (she uses no notes whatever), a well modulated and pleasing voice, a wonderful command of the English language and you have what it takes to win folks.

As for the story itself, "The Patriot" it is just as excellently written a novel as Pearl Buck's earlier work, "The Good Earth" which was awarded the Nobel prize.

The latter book deals with the love of a Chinese man for a Japanese woman, a tragic and comendatory theme. It gives a picture of Japanese life and throws some light on the mind of the Chinese revolutionist.

Last night's review was the second in a series of three being sponsored by the Woman's club for the public. The third and last is scheduled for the morning of May 2, at 10 o'clock, in The Castleton ballroom.

McCANN-RICKER EVENT AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

Of interest to New Castleites, comes the news of a wedding ceremony which took place in the Temple Baptist church at Washington, D. C., on Friday evening, April 14, when Miss Wilma J. McCann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCann, of 913 West Clayton street, became the bride of Robert E. Ricker, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Humphrey, of 708 West Clayton street, also of New Castle.

The vows were exchanged at 8 o'clock, with the Rev. Randolph Gregory, pastor, officiating. The bride, attired in a street length dress of poudre blue crepe with gardenia corsage, and white sweet peas, was attended by Mrs. Jack Rice, who wore a sky blue dress with shoulder bouquet of pink roses. The latter husband, Jack Rice, and W. Meeks, attended the groom, all of whom are residents of Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Ricker are now residing at 324 Prince George street, Annapolis, Md., where he is affiliated with the Naval Academy as a dental technician. Mrs. Ricker was formerly connected with the local Johnson Bronze.

LOCAL D. A. R. GIVES NEW FLAG TO SCHOOL

An interesting assembly was held in the East Brook high school on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when the pupils of the grades, as well as the high school students, with teachers, members of the Parent-Teacher Association and members of Lawrence Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, gathered for a patriotic program, when the school was presented with a new American flag.

The singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" opened the assembly which was in charge of Prof. Ralph Watson. After devotions, Miss Rae, music instructor at the school, presented eight musical numbers by various students, in solos and groups.

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of the New Castle city schools, was introduced by Mr. Watson and gave an address on "Patriotism and Americanism."

Following, Prof. Watson introduced Mrs. Claire Cook, a member of the East Brook P. T. A. and corresponding secretary of Lawrence Chapter, D. A. R. She spoke on "Patriotism and the Proper Use of the Flag." She then introduced the regent of the D. A. R., Mrs. Wyatt R. Campbell, and Mrs. Campbell in turn introduced Miss Gevion Stevenson, treasurer of Lawrence Chapter. Miss Stevenson also spoke on "Patriotism," and at the conclusion of her remarks, presented to the school, a mounted American flag and holder, in behalf of Lawrence Chapter, D. A. R. Mrs. Scott Kirk, representing the East Brook P. T. A., and Prof. Watson, representing the students and faculty, accepted the flag with well-chosen remarks.

The pledge of allegiance was given, followed by a song by the girls' ensemble of the high school, under the direction of Miss Rae. The singing of "America" concluded the program.

Mrs. M. M. Ingham was program chairman of the evening and introduced as speaker, Lee Marvin, who took the women on a most interesting trip through the Rio Grande valley of Southern Texas. The projecting of the pictures was taken care of by Frank Shiek.

Refreshments were served in the church dining room at tables carried out in a scheme of yellow with forsythia and jonquils used artistically on the long tables. ### COMPETITIVE SPORTS IN GRADES

An elementary school principal writes:
"For the last few years there has been a movement on foot in this city to place the playing of various sports, baseball, basketball and touch football in the elementary schools on a competitive basis. The reason for it probably is that in succeeding years the high school teams will be able to make a better showing in their interscholastic sports. The elementary school principals of the city, as well as the director of physical education, are opposed to such a program for reasons which are well known to people connected with schools and interested in the welfare of boys and girls of elementary school age.

Intramural Basis
"We believe that all athletics in elementary schools and in junior high schools, with the possible exception of the ninth grade, should be entirely and exclusively on an intramural basis and not on an interscholastic basis. We believe also that the principals of individual schools should formulate and govern the program of athletics in his school, and be responsible only to the superintendent of schools. We believe in and endorse heartily the resolutions adopted last spring at the Atlanta Convention of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation."

The first paragraph of the resolution referred to:
"Inasmuch as pupils below the 10th grade are in the midst of the period of most rapid growth, with the consequent bodily weaknesses and maladjustments, partial ossification of bones, mental and emotional stresses, physiological readjustments, and the like, he it therefore resolved that the leader in the field of physical and health education should do all in their power to discourage interscholastic competition at this age level, because of its strenuous nature."

Editorial Quoted
An editorial which the principal sent to me is from the Journal of Health and Physical Education. To quote one paragraph:

"Frequently pressure from people of the community interested in winning teams without regard of the consequences to the welfare of the participants have demanded a junior high school interscholastic program of athletics. To combat such influences the physical education directors have often appealed for authoritative aid. The voice of the National Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation is now expressed and this message should be a great help to those conscientious school principals and athletic coaches who are striving to suppress any community movement for a high-powered program of competitive athletics for early adolescent boys and girls."

Most parents who really care will heartily agree with this editorial. Why should the well-being of our immature boys be ruined by over-anxious, selfish, power-seeking individuals who always look at scores and gate receipts and nothing else?

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

DANGER AHEAD

Is the United States becoming Balkan in its constituent parts, internally divided by barriers and provocative sectional jealousies?

James Truslow Adams, the American historian, believes we are headed in that disturbing direction. In writing concerning this situation, he cites many instances of the "new protectionism" which has mushroomed in our midst. Butter and oleomargarine wars, beer wars in a dozen states, ports of entry laws—Kansas alone has seventy such ports blockading her highways—all these are typical of the interstate barriers being erected between commonwealths.

These new wars between states are thankfully still commercial for the most part, but in hampering free trade they have aroused much bitterness and sectional antagonism. The seeds of strife are there. To remove them is a task of urgent and profound importance, in historian Adams' opinion.

To be sure, all tariff barriers between the states of the union are forbidden by the Federal Constitution, but the United States Supreme Court has become a poor interpreter of the Constitution. If Acts dovetail with the purposes of the present administration, they are loath to declare them void and of no effect.

America's well-being and high standard of living have always been dependent on freedom of trade throughout the United States. Its 3,000,000 square miles and 130,000,000 citizens make it one of the great free trade areas in the world. To break it up with interstate barriers, trade wars, and ports of entry fees damming the flow of commerce, is to go back one hundred fifty years. As every schoolboy knows, it was the vengeful tariff wars between states that almost wrecked young America after the Revolutionary War.

Special groups obviously profit from such barriers, but the general welfare of the nation is endangered. Happily, we are beginning to recognize that internal free trade is inseparable from the general welfare.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 6:48. Sun rises tomorrow 5:14.

Some jails have delousing rooms we read. Sounds lousy.

A Pittsburgh man who killed his wife and son after returning penniless from Florida in 1935, pleads insanity. There may be a good reason in that plea after all.

We read of a columnist who had a horse named after him. That's all right if it's a whole horse.

"Why don't you use a little horse sense when you drive that bus?" demanded Harry Clark of a friend in his automobile the other day.

"That's the trouble," sighed the friend. "No matter how hard I say whoa the thing won't stop and you always have to keep your hands on the steering wheel."

Life is unendurable without something to be proud of. Think how many men have been saved by being able to blow smoke rings.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who went to church regularly on Sundays so as to get a good quiet hour in which to plan his business for the coming week?

Among a great many other things on the desk of President Roosevelt in his office are four ash trays, a cigar lighter and seven match boxes. Some smoker.

It looks as if about the best appointment Gov. James made for his cabinet was our own Capt. Roger W. Rowland. He will make good, all right.

The Office Grouch remarks that the candidate who keeps his campaign promises to the voters is a very rare bird.

"But," he adds, "so is the voter who actually remembers what those promises were."

Something like the chap who is trying now to remember what those promises were that he made on New Year's day.

Truck drivers have only themselves to blame if the law steps in and puts a stop to their activities on the highways. Some of them don't know what courtesy is and in the cities park in the middle of streets to save a few steps.

A prominent Democratic leader says there is no such thing as a faint-hearted Democrat. Maybe not, but there are no Democrats who are not worried a whole lot now.

A Kansas editor says a mother is never really happy until her daughter grows up to the age when the mother can talk with young woman about the father's faults.

Customer Skjold—I thought you said you had considered the recession and slashed prices?

Dealer Byones—We have.

Skjold—Then you must have done it with a safety razor blade.

There are still some scoundious sidewalks in this town that got through the winter without bringing damage suits to their owners.

Sidewalks can be put down now cheaper than ever when WPA work is used and the owner buys the materials.

TABLES TURNED
Even the best meaning public officials sometimes contract insomnia because they get so many telephone calls at night. People call up to report everything from a murder to the moaning of a neighbor's cat. But here's one on how a harassed official acted to get some sleep.

He had been awakened every night at midnight by a citizen who complained about cats fighting in front of his house. The official, desperate for sleep, finally hit on an idea. He remembered the police force has men working all night. So he ordered the force to call the citizen every morning at two a. m.

A former big beer mug in Chicago who is being sued by the government for $412,168.16 unpaid income taxes, claims he has no money to hire a lawyer. Please pass the suds!

Mrs. Playfoot—What is the height of happiness?

Sally—In my case he's about five feet seven inches.

A lot of birds are always bawling about not getting enough money for what they do and also brag because they have to pay so much for what they buy. Lots of those same birds make the prices too high for those who cannot afford to pay them.

Mrs. Newlywed—I would like a nice mess of slumps, please.

Grocer—Slumps? I'm afraid I don't understand what you mean.

Mrs. Newlywed—But only last night my husband told a business friend there were fresh slumps in the market, and I wanted so much to surprise him with some for dinner.

Pap says if they put a tax on free speech up at his house he will be broke in a week.

Dolemi—Young Rygg is a live wire, I tell you.

Dzudi—That probably explains his shocking habits.

When they give out prizes for stupid conceits, I shall give my vote to the boy who continues night after night to telephone a girl for a date that is not forthcoming. Hoping that he will take the hint she goes through her whole repertoire of polite excuses: "I've promised Mother I would go to see Granny," "Father is taking me to the Mikado," "Our sorority meets tonight," and tells him the awful truth. But the boy with 25 percent of the normal cranial capacity will take the hint after her fifth consecutive call.

Reader's Question Answered

Dear Miss Markel—I would like to know when it is permissible to wear reds.

JERRY
Answer—There used to be a theory that reds should be worn during the day only, and never after dark, but this seems to be exploded now. They are now worn on any dress-up occasion in the afternoon or evening.

The majority of women do not wear them at all and no woman with any claim to good taste would wear a veil with sports clothes.

THE DYING HOBBO

Beside a western water-tank one cold and wintry day. Within an empty box-car a dying hobo lay.

Beside him sat his comrade, with downcast eyes and head.

And listened to the words this dying hobo said:

"I'm going to a land, dear pal, a land that's fair and bright. Where handouts grow on apple trees And you can sleep outdoors all night."

Where cigarettes grow on gooseberry bushes And you don't have to wash your socks.

Where little drops of whiskey come trickling down the rocks. Go tell my girl on Broadway, no tear in her eye to lurk.

For I am going to a land where you do not have to work. But, hark! I hear the whistle, you must catch her on the fly. So take my hand, my dear old pal, for I'm about to die.

So far we have not heard anything about daylight saving time in New Castle. A lot of birds have too much of it now and don't need to save any.

Gov. James thinks that big escape proof pen at Mt. Gretna is not needed now. The Dems started and it did look like it was needed then.

Billfuzz—There's a lot of talk about equal rights for women. Do they believe a woman is entitled to a Zimpr—That depends on whether they are married.

An Oil City policeman has been demoted for doing his duty. It's a good thing they are not demoting cops for not doing their duty.

It seems to us there should be a little less war talk in Washington. We might go there during the summer if there is no war.

The captain of the ship approached the young lady leaning over the rail.

"Waiting for the moon to come up?" he asked.

"Ye gods!" cried the seasick maiden, "has that got to come up, too?"

Hi Hum says the wolf is getting so close to the door up at his house that his wife has bought herself a red riding hood.

Well it has been a good spring for green onions anyhow.

The old cigar store Indian has disappeared, but we still have the painted finger nails, lip stick and puff of rouge.

Stingo—It's hard to collect money in these times.

Bingo—How do you know? Are you a collector?

Stingo—No, but a lot of people have tried to collect from me.

Saving sounds easy, but look at the odds against you. Just glance down the street—one bank, and ten stores selling women's clothes.

All photographs of great men should be best pictures. In later years they never seem great if their funny pants show.

Sniff—My wife is so very tender hearted she won't even whip cream.

Chizz—That's nothing. My wife won't beat rugs, and tears come to her eyes every time she has to skin those helpless little onions.

Mrs. Stubblefield—I'll say this much for the last war.

Mrs. Chubbitt—What is that?

Mrs. Stubblefield—It didn't last long after my boy got into it.

If you really hate Nazism, give sympathy and moral support to the decent millions in Germany who hate it more than you do.

Immigration Ban Held Mistake
Believe Restrictions Too Strict
Both Sides Of Question Argued

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The theory that our present immigration restrictions are too strict for our own good at last is beginning to be argued quite audibly in Washington. A few of our law-makers and administrative officials have hinted all along that they thought we had left too narrow a crack in the door through which so many old worldlings used to get in to join Uncle Sam's citizenry. However, these critics were pretty careful not to speak over-loudly. The restrictions were slapped on with a view to protecting American labor from the competition of more and cheaper workers from abroad. Consequently anyone who suggested that we were overdoing matters exposed himself to the charge that he was advocating lower pay for our country's toilers here at home—a most undesirable position for a politician to place himself in. Accordingly, on an average, regardless of his opinion, he kept muddling still. Nevertheless an occasional chirp was heard.

For example, when our last era of hard times was setting in, and it was being reasoned that we already had too many producers in comparison with too few consumers, and thus that we were wise in keeping any additional producers out, I had an interview with Chairman Samuel Dickstein of the house committee on immigration and naturalization, in the course of which I asked, "Isn't it true that a new producer is a new consumer, also?" And, in a burst of confidence, Chairman Dickstein answered, "Why! that's what I say!" But he didn't amplify.

Depression Cause?
In the agriculture department's bureau of farm economics is an exceptionally capable statistician of the name of O. E. Baker, who has assured me that he believes our depression is due to the rapid decline in our population growth—we're now approaching the static. Economist Baker doesn't specifically say that immigration restrictions are responsible for our population growth's decline or that they're responsible for hard times. He does say that population growth's decline has been coincidental with harder times, that our population can't grow as once it did, when we were scooping in a million or so of foreigners per year—and that we haven't re-adapted our economy to the declining rate.

This is rather weak stuff. But the other day Dr. Osmond K. Fraenkel, a New York economist of tip-top reputation, as a witness before a house judiciary sub-committee said that he considers the current "stoppage of immigration into this country a grave economic mistake."

He quoted ex-Justice Louis D. Brandeis of the supreme court as agreeing with him.

True, Dr. Fraenkel isn't governmentally official, but he got his views into an official record.

Ex-Justice Brandeis hasn't repudiated him, either.

That testimony is pungent enough.

European Minorities
Of course the row arises over the question of our admission of persecuted exiles from central Europe.

They're a noticeable disposition to let 'em in but we can't do it under the existing immigration law. In fact, there might be an excess of one kind anyhow. Possibly they'd swamp us.

They're political refugees, though. I've heard Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts say so, concede that they're entitled to the "right of asylum" and express his regret that it's denied to them.

If this country were over-crowded there might be some sense in it. But there's lots of room here.

Why, we have Indian tribes still pressing claims in Washington. It dates back as far as Columbus.

THE GOLFING PARSON RETURNS

Once more the golfing parson comes on Monday, with his sermons done.

And all his prayers, as he declares To get a bit of springtime sun And catch a sight of asphodel Where quail and ring-necked pheasant dwell.

Acain the golfing parson stands "All eagerly upon the tee. "His good, to hear the songbirds near."

He solemnly proclaims to me, "Tis good to be alive and sense Another spring's experience!"

"I'm truly thankful I have lived Another dreary winter through And glad am I, while passing by, For all that vault of azure blue— Merely to walk this grassy aisle Would make the afternoon worth while."

I've heard that speech so oft before I merely stand in silence now And let him praise in saintly ways The blossoms on the cherry bough. For done with that I know he'll say: "What strokes do I receive today?"

Hints On Etiquette

Don't flatter, but find what good you can in everyone and everything, and praise when you can do it honestly.

Aren't we smart! We say more world trade is necessary to make times good. Then we build barriers to kill trade between our own states.

The Division On Foreign Policy

Washington, April 19. IT is curious that Mr. Roosevelt's foreign policy should find stronger endorsement at home among the conservatives, who on all domestic issues have been opposed to him, than among the radicals whose support he has had with almost complete solidity for eight years. Nevertheless, such is the fact.

AFTER a week of swift developments, beginning with that casual and cryptic "I'll be back in the fall if we don't have war" remark on leaving Warm Springs and climaxing with the dramatic appeal to Hitler and Mussolini, this strange division of sentiment was made clear—so far as he can do it, the weight of the United States will be thrown on the side of England and France.

They not only do not subscribe to the theory that the best way to promote peace is to make that perfectly clear to the dictators now, but are convinced that such a course makes war more certain and inevitably involves us in it.

WITHIN the last few days, two of the largest and most enthusiastic Roosevelt supporting newspapers have had long pained editorials deeply deploring the president's attitude, pointing out what they considered his misadventure and begging him to desist. Some of his senatorial adherents have referred to his last move as "dangerous meddling." Others, like Schweigenbach, of Washington, serve in their support in every other particular, manifest extreme reluctance to acquiesce in this, and with obvious pain say they "hope it will turn out all right."

The radical weeklies, which have so adamantly upheld every domestic Roosevelt experiment, suffer acutely over the Roosevelt denunciation of the axis nations and volubly protest what they regard as making the British cause our own. Some of the president's most consistent columnist admirers have been gotten to acquiesce with considerable difficulty. In brief, a large number of the leading "Liberals," with whom the president has been so closely linked, are frankly in the isolation and pacifist camps.

ON the other hand, that section of the press which has most effectively opposed New Deal policies and been most critical of Mr. Roosevelt's judgment, strongly uphold his position on the European crisis and applaud his utterances. It is their conviction that the best way to preserve the peace is by convincing the dictators that if they provoke a general conflict the United States, stronger than Germany and Italy combined, will join England and France in the job of crushing them.

To this belief a great many in congress and out, who clearly see the follies of the New Deal and have no confidence in the president's judgment, subscribe. An example is the able, independent and extremely anti-New Deal Senator Edward Burke, of Nebraska. And there are others. It is the Western Liberals who today regard the president's methods of handling foreign affairs with trepidation and distrust.

EXACTLY why conservatives who have nothing else in common with Mr. Roosevelt should be with him on this great issue, while the radicals who are his political blood brothers should react against it, is not apparent. Perhaps, as good an explanation as any lies in the difference in the club and make-up between conservative and radicals. The latter think ahead, but they are less apt to think things through. In the European situation they are as short sighted as in domestic affairs.

FOR EXAMPLE, they think that if the "objective" is good the means they propose for reaching it must be right, which, of course, is foolish. It is the more articulate Liberals who favor a rigid neutrality law and a completely detached attitude as the one sound policy for this nation in foreign affairs. By "strictly minding our own business" we can, they argue, keep aloof no matter what happens in Europe. It is a completely astrich position, but typically liberal, and it is vehemently denied by the president. His real support now is from his former opponents, not his friends. That if war comes the nation is certain to be affected and in the end drawn in seems to them too clear to dispute. Certainly, experience would indicate that they are right. Certainly, that seems the opinion of most thoughtful and informed men.

IF they are right, then Mr. Roosevelt's support of the democracies, his denunciation of the aggressors and his warning appeal to the dictators are in the interests of peace. (Continued On Page Seven)

What Noted People Say

International News Service

LOS ANGELES—Joe Louis plays his last opponent a dubious compliment: "I don't see how Tony Galento or any one else can come any tougher than Jack Roper was."

ATLANTA, Ga.—Howard Conoley, head of the National Association of Manufacturers, declares industry has no "stomach for war."

"Facing the possibility of a great European conflict, we recognize that temporarily there might be greater industrial activity and perhaps a paper prosperity resulting from war but actually there would be no gain. War is too great a price to pay."

LOS ANGELES—High Commissioner Bruce of Austria makes a frank appraisal of British and Australian feeling:

"England is not alone afraid of the 'dictator nations'. The entire world shares that apprehension and Australia is no exception."

Strange men! They hate the law that sends them to the gallows, yet cheer the craze leader who sends them out to be killed by bullets.

Next Week Is Clean-Up Week

Pennsylvania Citizens Are Asked To Cooperate In Observance Of Annual Event

EACH DAY HAS DIFFERENT IDEA

Next week will be Clean-Up Week in Pennsylvania, the period having been agreed upon by the state departments of health, welfare, forest and waters and the Pennsylvania Motor Police Bureau of Fire Protection. These agencies are urging all municipalities in the state to cooperate with them in the observance of the occasion.

Monday has been designated as Housecleaning Day, when it is suggested that the accumulation of junk and trash in cellars and attics, consisting of old papers, magazines, books, rags, bottles, tin cans, etc., be removed. Cellars can be cleaned and whitewashed.

Tuesday has been set aside as Highway Day, when streets and sidewalks should be cleaned, gutters cleared, ditches opened and sewers flushed. Vacant lots should also be given attention, clearing away debris which might cause injury to children.

Wednesday is set aside as Field and Stream Day, when the breeding places of flies, mosquitos and other insects can be eliminated, and debris washed up by high water cleared away from the banks of streams.

Thursday is Forestry Day, when an effort should be made to remove and destroy accumulated debris such as dead brush and leaves which have accumulated about buildings and along fence rows bordering on forest fires.

Friday is Sanitation Day, which day has been set aside to mop up in spots that are too long neglected. Cesspools should be cleaned and lined. Outhouses should be made fly-proof and stable yards, chicken coops and pig pens should be given a complete overhauling before hot weather arrives. Rain spouting should be mended, garbage cans cleaned and disinfected and lids fitted tightly.

It is the experience of the state departments that annually cooperative in this movement that a program such as outlined above properly carried out by local officials, Chambers of Commerce, welfare organizations, civic and service clubs, will not only result in improved sanitation, but will serve to prevent serious fires, loss of property and possible life.

B. Ella Smith to W. Dale McCurley, North Beaver township, $3500.

R. R. Grim to Frank Dydek, Volant, farm implements.

More delinquent tax monies went to the various school and road districts of the county this week. County Treasurer V. I. Mandich and County Controller Frank W. Hill have completed their compilation of the figures and the checks started out on Tuesday.

The New Castle school district received $3433.33. Ellwood City school district received $350.24. Bessemer Boro school district received $18.70 school taxes, $5.10 for the boro, $1.61 for the library.

Emon Valley school district received $44.01 and the boro $51.20. South New Castle Boro got $131.63 school taxes and $64.32 road. Hickory township school district got $85.37 school taxes and $32.15 road taxes.

Little Beaver township got $15.25 school taxes and $4.86 road taxes. Mahoning township got $218.69 school taxes and $32.74 road taxes. Neshaunock township got $44.48 school taxes and $12.25 road taxes. North Beaver township got $110.36 school taxes and $9.94 road taxes.

Perry township got $4.02 school taxes and 66 cents road taxes. Shenvango township got $82.98 school taxes and $17.44 road taxes. Taylor township got $65.48 school taxes and $16.49 light taxes. Union township got $158.44 school taxes, $24 road taxes, $2.23 light taxes.

Washington township got $39.16 school taxes and $22.84 road taxes. Wayne township got $384.77 school taxes and $167.56 road taxes. Wilmington township got $121.92 school taxes and $41.08 road taxes. Independent school district of Chewton got $49.23 school taxes. Independent school district of Edenburg got $27.95.

The grand total of monies received was $5995.01. The county treasurer's office retains 2 per cent for collection which means $97.44 for the county.

Tax liens which will be filed May 1st can still be cleared off if the taxpayer decides to do so and thus save the filing fee of $1.25 on each claim. At the present time the county treasurer's office is working nights preparing liens, although many of them have been paid off in the past week.

Taxes to be filed May 1st include all county and poor taxes for 1938, also road and school taxes for 1933 and New Castle school taxes for 1933 and 1934.

One hundred forty-five non-resident fishermen took out licenses this year for which they paid $3.35 each. In other years many non-resident fishermen have taken out three day licenses, but this year they went the whole hog. One state Michigan, has a reciprocal agreement with Pennsylvania and a Michigan fisherman pays only $2.60 for a license. Pennsylvania fishermen pay $1.60.

The county commissioners force has completed the sending out of tax lien notices to thousands of taxpayers, as a concluding part of the audit. It is possible that some of these liens may be wrong. In this case the taxpayer is urged to present himself at the county commissioners' office within ten days of receipt of the letter. If he does not, it will be assumed the lien is correct.

Work upon the remodeling of the old Boyles home is proceeding satisfactorily according to Architect Harry M. Wirsing. The new partitions are going in, wiring is being done and the plumbing and heating will start soon.

The single building standing between the Boyles home and the court house will be converted into a welfare office. When the new wing is put on the court house, two proper jury rooms will be installed. In the past the county has never had the facilities required under the law but the new jury rooms will conform.

With all county officers soon to be housed in county property, it is suggested that a telephone exchange be put into the court house. This would make for efficiency it is thought and probably would not cost any more than the present individual telephones.

CERTIFY GROWERS

OF BRAMBLE PLANTS

Among the growers of bramble plants in Pennsylvania, whose plantings during the 1938 season qualified for certification by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture were: Joseph Bosak of Pulaski, black raspberries; and Amos Byler, R. F. D. No. 1, New Wilmington; Ralph Lengerman and G. L. Lockhart, of R. F. D. No. 5; and J. A. Rodgers, of 138 East Wallace avenue, red raspberries.

It is unlawful in the state of Pennsylvania to sell or offer for sale, any bramble plants that were not inspected and certified. The use of uncertified plants involves the risk of losing the planting through disease at about the time it should come into full bearing.

There still is a town crier in the smaller villages of France, and he beats a drum to call attention to the news he brings. Physicians deliver over 85 per cent of the infants born in the United States. In Europe, about 75 per cent are delivered by mid-wives.

"I looked all over town... BUT COULDN'T BEAT THE DEAL I GOT FROM HUDSON!"

As one recent Hudson buyer said: "Like most people, the thing that's most likely to make me decide to buy a new car is a good deal for my old car on a new one that I'd like to own. So when I read that Hudson dealers were offering extra good deals, I decided to investigate. I found that the offer meant business... and I looked over some offers on other cars to make sure. I got the best all around deal from Hudson that I could get anywhere, and I'm mighty proud of my new car."

Here's Why

MORE MONEY FOR YOUR CAR

Our spring business is rolling along in fine shape. We're selling a lot of new Hudsons, but even more used cars! That's why we're willing to go the limit for your car.

WE NEED USED CARS!

—AND WE'LL TRADE HIGHER IN APRIL TO GET 'EM!

MORE CAR FOR YOUR MONEY

We'll match Hudson against the field in every popular price class! Measure and check wherever you please. Hudson is better looking, roomier and safer by far. It has more and smoother power, with comfort that sets a new high. Drive a Hudson and see! Come where your dollars buy more!

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Plan Clean Up Week In Ward

Drive To Make District Appear More Attractive To Start Monday

General clean up week for the Seventh Ward district has been scheduled to start with Monday, April 24. During this week an effort will be made to have all of the ward residents take a little pride in their homes and surroundings and put them in spic and span shape.

Members of the Mahoningtown Garden club, working in conjunction with the Greater New Castle Association, are back of this move.

It was learned today that arrangements have been made for the tin can wagon to make a visit to the ward during the week and haul away all cans that have been gathered up and placed at the curb, in containers.

Old Barn Being Torn Down Here

One of Mahoningtown's oldest structures, an old barn that stood on Madison avenue, just to the rear of the Mahoning Methodist church, and directly across from the ward library, is being torn down.

The structure has been in a bad condition for several years, and its removal will improve the appearance of the property, and the property of the Methodist church.

The building was secured by Benjamin Butz, of the Harbor road, and he is doing the work.

REPORTS GIVEN AT PATROL MEETING

Boy Scouts of Building Beaver patrol Troop 4, met on Tuesday evening at the home of the assistant scoutmaster, Billy Bollinger, on Madison avenue.

People In Small U. S. Towns Know More About Activities In Germany-Italy Than Natives

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, April 19.—

"People in the small towns of America know more of what is going on in Germany and Italy than the natives of those countries because of a censored press," George Seibel, magistrate of the Pittsburgh morals court and for 40 years a newspaper man in Allegheny county, told Westminster college students here in an address on "Confessions of a Newspaper Man."

The small dailies and the rural press is the most independent newspaper group in America today, Seibel said, and write more candid editorials and have fewer restrictions on their reporters.

Seibel spoke of the "good old days" of journalism, when papers purposefully started rumors themselves just to have a "good story," and when many interviews with celebrities were written without ever contacting these individuals.

"Most newspapermen are idealists and reformers at heart," Seibel said, "who spend their lives fighting for causes which they are convinced are worthy."

Seibel told of being interviewed by a newspaper in Italy, about the weather, the beautiful buildings and the climate. Warned not to say anything about Mussolini, Seibel was silent on this subject. Weeks later, however, when he received a copy of the newspaper, after returning to America, Seibel found he had been quoted as praising Mussolini, saying that Il Duce was regarded as "God's gift to the Italian people" by Americans.

"In spite of all the accusations that newspapers deal in propaganda, the American press is a gigantic force for truth and education," Seibel concluded.

METROPOLITAN PLAN FOR PITTSBURGH IS GIVEN RUN-AROUND

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 19.—Fears that Pittsburgh's metropolitan plan of government is doomed were expressed here Tuesday in the wake of a report that neither Democratic nor Republican legislators from Allegany county could be prevailed upon to introduce the measure in the senate.

The plan was drawn up recently by a representative group of citizens and drafted into legislative form for presentation to the lawmakers. Factional differences were blamed for the bill's apparent demise.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright) 1938, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Susceptibility of Child to Diphtheria Can Be Determined Beyond Shadow Of Doubt.

In spite of the drop in the number of deaths due to diphtheria, owing to the development of antitoxin, there are still a few fatalities. Sometimes a doctor isn't called in time and the child doesn't get the antitoxin as soon as it should. One such death occurred in our neighborhood two years ago.

In order to prevent such deaths, medical men began looking about for something they could give to children which would prevent them from developing the disease at all. The first step was a test, which when applied would tell us whether the individual was susceptible to the disease. This test consists of the injection of an extremely small quantity of the poison into the skin of the person being tested. If there is a susceptibility, within two days a redness will appear around the spot where the injection was given. This test has been found to be fool-proof, and is used extensively at the present time.

But this didn't solve the problem of preventing the disease. After long investigation, two methods of making people immune were discovered, and with this discovery, diphtheria was licked.

The first method science hit upon was to take some of the toxin produced by the diphtheria bacteria and mix it with some of the antitoxin. When these two were injected into the arm of a child, that youngster developed an immunity to the disease, and didn't develop the disease even if exposed.

Still later, experimentation brought out the fact that if the toxin was mixed with formaldehyde, the poisonous properties of the toxin were destroyed. Not only that, but this mixture, when injected into the arm of an individual, gave him immunity to diphtheria. This method has been found to be the more satisfactory of the two, and is now largely used.

I think perhaps you would all like to know how this immunity is actually developed. When we inject antitoxin into the arm of a child that has diphtheria, all we are doing is neutralizing the poisons which are already present. This is achieved in the same way as mixing a strong alkali with a strong acid. The result is that neither the alkali nor the acid can do any harm. This is called passive immunization since the body doesn't do anything to fight the bacteria. All we do is introduce an antidote to overcome the poison.

This method is fine as far as it goes, but in a few days the antidote tends to lose its power to neutralize the poison and the patient is then as susceptible as ever. I remember, years ago, being called to see a boy who had diphtheria. He was very sick, so I filled him with antitoxin, and in a couple of days he was better. Two weeks later I was called to the home again, and I found the same boy dreadfully ill. I gave him more antitoxin, but his condition couldn't stand the strain. It gave out while I was right there.

Here is what had happened; the first antitoxin I had given him had cured him then. When the antidote wore off, he had been re-exposed to the disease and had contracted it again. I can tell you I was pretty upset about it.

Would Unify All Police Forces In Third Class Cities

Would Grant Salaries $40
Weekly Minimum, Seek Intelligent Law Enforcement

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 19.—Unification of all city police into a statewide force similar to the Pennsylvania Motor Police was advocated today by police organizations of Third Class cities.

Representatives of police organizations, appearing at a senate hearing in behalf of the house-approved Reese Bill to fix a minimum salary for Third Class police of $2080 annually, said such moves would be "steps in the right direction."

Police representatives urged a $40-a-week minimum for Third Class city patrolmen to provide "decent, law-abiding and intelligent" enforcement agents.

The testimony on the Reese Bill was preliminary to testimony to be offered on seven other bills affecting 45 Third Class cities, all under consideration now by the senate municipal government committee.

Vigorous opposition to an increase in police salaries for economic reasons was voiced by Walter E. Greenwood, Coatesville city solicitor and president of the League of Third Class Cities. Greenwood said passage of the Reese Bill would necessitate immediate tax increases.

Owen Fox, city forester, with the assistance of a number of N.Y.A. youths, have erected two more picnic shelter buildings, and another open air fire place, that burn wood for fuel. This now makes five shelters, and about half a dozen open fireplaces.

More rustic seats and rests, and fences have been added.

Mr. Fox states that the park is better equipped than ever, for the enjoyment of picnickers, who are increasing in numbers every year.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1939 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

The hurdy-gurdys and peddle carts have gone from our midst. Now it's farewell to the sandwich men. By a new amendment to the New York traffic code, no one may display upon his person any advertising signs, placards, posters or similar device. One thinks sympathetically of the poor old codgers who will be put out of work.

It does seem that in these hard times unfortunate with so few means of earning bread, butter and bed, should be allowed to glean a few pennies from the little they can do. When New York's energetic mayor ousted the peddle carts, he fixed the pushcart merchants up nicely with stalls, supervised and sanitary, in warm indoor quarters. Once complaining bitterly, these merchants are now purring happily.

Will anything be done for the sandwich men? They would seem to rate a helping hand, for surely they have been trying to help themselves—suffering the indignity of being a human billboard, rather than becoming cadgers or flop-house dwellers.

They say the flower vendors are going next. That would seem just too bad. When Pan with the "in-whistle fills the street with his warbling and the crocuses and daffodils bloom on the street corners, at two-bits a bunch, we off the great army of strap-hangers and sidewalk pounders feel again vernal urges and essences, like the free men of heath and heather.

Why chase the daffodils? Wouldn't those transplanted Fifth avenue elms, captives in Potiphar's house, feel more at home with a few of their old friends up and down the street? No city great or small is as beautiful without street flower stands as with them.

Mayor La Guardia is no nose-cherry of music and flowers and picturesque little people who try to snatch some kind of a catch-at-catch-can living from the city streets. On the other hand, he is an ebullient Latin who plays the cornet so lustily that Commissioner Valentine would take him in if he tried it in the street. He is a virtuoso of cooking and stirs up Lucullan banquets in his kitchen. He likes flowers, a dash of color here and there and teams up with Robert Moses in unheard-of embellishments and gilded trimmings for the city. Then why does he crack down on all the vestigial color of the streets?

The answer seems to be that "old, remembered things," the quaint and the picturesque, are items of overhead which the great modern city can't afford—or thinks it can't. Hurdy-gurdys are noisy. We measure the disturbance in decibels and there is a put-out for the grind-whistle fills the street with his warbling and the crocuses and daffodils bloom on the street corners, at two-bits a bunch, we off the great army of strap-hangers and sidewalk pounders feel again vernal urges and essences, like the free men of heath and heather.

The peddle-carts in Bleeker street and Second and Third avenues and Paddy's Market make a bright carnival of color and excitement, but they are declared to be unsanitary. Their multilingual owners are herded into a sterilized arcadium of cleanliness and efficiency where no germ would dare to venture—not any painter or poet. The sandwich men, guiding you to restaurants or beauty parlors, clutter up the streets and, presumably, obstruct traffic, since it is under the traffic code that they are banned.

The new, slicked-up, sanitary, chromium-and-steel megalopolis must be geared to collective efficiency, and the devil take the hindmost. Continental Europe has gone much farther along this road than we have. Berlin no longer has little ambuscades of beauty and alibi for the wayward, prowling mind. It is ripped from stem to stern with Der Fuehrer's ruthless remodeling and re-building. The merely human or picturesque there would be like a buttercup riding a conveyor belt.

Dawdling, singing, alluring old Vienna is as dead as Barbarossa, the Red Beard. Il Duce's Italy goes the same way. In Rome, Venice, Naples and Florence, Fra Lippo Lippi no longer would find furtive drama "at the alley's end." In Naples, the hordes of beggars and gyppers are gone—good riddance, to anyone who has ever fought them off.

The rebuilders and renovators are at work all over the world. There were beautiful growths in the humus of the old world—"La Boheme," for instance. Will great song and great poetry well up in this clean, shining new concrete and steel cosmos the way they used to do? We will have to put that in the suspense file. These are leisurely growths.

First Furlough Visit In 5 Years Is Only Few Hours

F. D. Gemmill, Jr., Ordered Back To Navy Almost As Soon As He Reached New Castle

Five years ago, F. D. Gemmill, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Gemmill, Sr., of R. D. 7 was home on a furlough from the United States Navy. When he went back he was assigned to the Pacific fleet and for five years has been either on the Pacific coast, Honolulu or the Panama Canal.

On Sunday morning he returned home to New Castle for a long awaited visit with his family. With him came his wife who had never met her husband's parents. It looked like a nice visit with the folks. This was at ten o'clock in the morning.

At eleven o'clock a Western Union boy delivered a message which ordered Mr. Gemmill to report back to Newport, R. I., immediately and he caught the first bus eastbound out of New Castle. This was at four o'clock. Mrs. Gemmill stayed behind to get acquainted with her new father and mother-in-law.

Gemmill is attached to the U. S. S. Holland. Recently the fleet came around to the Atlantic side but emergency orders ordered it back to the Pacific side.

His brother Glenn Gemmill is also with the Navy being an instructor in bombing at the naval proving grounds in Dahlgren, Virginia. He has been in the Navy 22 years.

Expect House To Vote On Fireworks Bill During Day

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, April 19.—Final approval of the bill prohibiting the sale and use of fireworks in Pennsylvania was confidently expected in the house of representatives today.

The measure, sponsored by Reps. Herman J. Tahl and Robert Hamilton, Philadelphia Republicans, would permit the use of fireworks only at public and private displays licensed by the state.

Unsuccessful attempts were made to amend the bill late yesterday when it came up for third reading. Among amendments considered was that of Rep. Harry E. Trout, of Lancaster, which would permit the continued use of cap pistols with small caps.

Two votes taken during the protracted debate convinced Tahl and Hamilton that their measure will win decisive approval this afternoon. Tahl led the fight against recommitting or amending the bill.

Child Is Cause Of Court Battle

Two Women Held In Beaver Facing Charges For Taking Girl

TWO OTHERS SEEK CUSTODY OF CHILD

(International News Service)
BEAVER, Pa., April 19.—Two women were being held on kidnapping charges today, while two other women prepared for a court battle to decide which of them is the "mother" of three-year-old Dora Mae Nagel.

Mrs. Harry Nagel, of nearby North Sewickley township, and Mrs. Charles Rowland, of Ellwood City, are seeking custody of the child. Eighteen months ago Mrs. Nagel offered to give the child to Mrs. Rowland, who is childless. Last spring, however, Mrs. Nagel changed her mind and asked Mrs. Rowland for her child, but her request was denied.

Last Sunday, according to "Squire" James C. Sneed of North Sewickley, Mrs. Nagel and two other women, Mrs. Gert Zatterio and Mrs. Helen Haggerty, both of Ellwood City, took tiny Dora Mae from Sunday school. Mrs. Zatterio and Mrs. Haggerty were held on kidnapping charges, but Mrs. Nagel was allowed to go free because she was the "legal" mother of the child and no adoption papers had been filed.

Charging that Mrs. Nagel was an "Indian giver," the alleged foster-parents filed action against her to recover the girl. A hearing will be held Saturday. Meanwhile, the two women who allegedly helped the mother regain her child are being held under the kidnapping counts.

Said "Squire Sneed of the case: "Mrs. Nagel and two other women drove to the Sunday school Dora Mae was attending. Mrs. Nagel asked Dora Mae's teacher if she could give her daughter a birthday present. Mrs. Nagel gave the child a bag of candy and then drove her away in the auto."

Mrs. Haggerty and Mrs. Zatterio insisted that the only reason they had gone along with Mrs. Nagel Sunday was "to do her a favor."

At present the child is staying with an uncle on a farm near Kittanning. She celebrated her third birthday yesterday and apparently doesn't realize the seriousness of the struggle going on for her custody.

After Miss Van Divort concluded her talk she invited the club members to ask her any question they might have on Europe. One of the questions was whether she had noticed any signs of war to which Miss Van Divort replied in the negative. She stated the people of Europe do not want war any more than we do. ## OFTEN HATED SIGHT OF FOOD BEFORE SHE TOOK "VENDOL"

Beaver Falls lady always suffered after meals from gas, sour stomach, acid risings, lump in throat and other troubles resulting from being constipated. Praises Vendol for wonderful relief.

"It's a wonderful feeling to know you can eat anything that comes on the table and that you won't pay for it later with stomach upset," said Mrs. John Garrettsen, residing on route 1, Beaver Falls, Penna., recently.

"For the past few years I have been in almost continual distress caused by constipation, and this kept me feeling below par most of the time. I actually hated the sight of food at times and had to force myself to eat to sustain my strength."

"Even scanty meals disagreed with me and about an hour after eating, my stomach began to grumble with gas, which would finally get so bad that my breath was short and I'd feel all puffed up. I'd lift up a hot, sour liquid with bits of undigested food, and often felt like there was a lump in my throat."

"This condition also made me nervous so I couldn't sleep well, I often had thumping headaches. It wasn't long after I began taking Vendol and the little Vendol laxative tablets that I got the grandest relief I'd experienced in many a day from constipation, then my digestion improved, and all signs of gas, sour stomach, palpitation, at leading drug stores everywhere.

Sharon Man Is New Moderator

Dr. W. L. Wishart Elected
Leader Of Presbyterians
In Section

PRESBYTERY MEETS HERE ON TUESDAY

Dr. W. L. Wishart, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Sharon, was elected moderator of Shenango Presbytery Tuesday at the opening of the spring session in the Mahoningtown church. He succeeds Rev. E. A. Shoemaker, youthful Westfield minister.

After the selection of a moderator, presbytery chose the following commissioners to synod and to General Assembly:

Commissioners to synod, June 19 at Wilson College, Chambersburg, Pa.—Principals, clerical, Rev. W. J. Holmes, Calvary, New Castle, and Dr. C. B. Winger, Central, New Castle; alternates, Rev. Thomas G. Berger, Slippery Rock, Ellwood City, and Dr. Grant E. Fisher, retired New Castle; lay delegates, William A. Kerr, First, Ellwood City, and Austin A. Webb, First, New Castle; alternates, E. C. Hulbert, Mahoningtown, and Earl Friday, Slippery Rock, Ellwood City.

Commissioners to General Assembly, in late May at Cleveland, O.—Principals, clerical, Rev. T. C. Henderson, Moravia, and Rev. William C. Ferver, Unity; alternates, Rev. J. G. Bingham, Wampum, and Dr. Charles Z. Bell, Harlansburg; lay delegates, Clyde B. Houk, Bell Memorial, Ellwood City, and Herbert S. Williams, West Middlesex; alternates, A. P. Arnold, Enon Valley, and Sherman J. McConnell, Rich Hill.

Fifty ministers and elders attended the meeting yesterday. Sessions were conducted throughout the morning and afternoon. The Willing Workers of the Mahoningtown church served the noon lunch, for which Rev. A. M. Stevenson of Ellwood expressed the men's appreciation.

Dr. Thomas P. Kerr was received by letter from Vincennes Presbytery. He is retired from the ministry and will reside in Haywood Home, Sharon.

Davis Receives Call
Sherman J. McConnell of Rich Hill and William A. Kerr of Ellwood City were appointed auditors for presbytery. Licentiate Richard Davis, who will be graduated from seminary at Pittsburgh next month, was dismissed from Shenango in order that he may enter Kittanning Presbytery. The youth, son of Prof. Alan Davis of Westminster College, has accepted a call to the Rural Valley church.

Rev. W. Joseph Engle, pastor of the Bessemer Presbyterian church for about 13 years, requested dissolution of the pastoral relations on July 1 and the request was granted. Rev. Engle is of pension age and is retiring from the active ministry. Gerald Nord and E. B. Manewahl, of the Bessemer church, expressed the sentiments of congregation and session concerning the long and faithful service given in the community by Rev. Engle. The retiring minister was appointed moderator of the session, to assist the church in securing a new pastor.

Trustees Are Named
Dr. S. A. Kirkbride of New Wilmington, Dr. C. B. Winger of New Castle and Dorris Pulkman of Pulaski were elected trustees for three years. J. Audley Boak of Mt. Hermon was nominated to represent Shenango Presbytery on the general council of synod. Rev. W. J. Holmes was continued as stated supply for the next six months at Calvary church, New Castle. It was announced that Rev. David I. Schaeffer, until recently stated supply at Princeton and Mt. Hermon, is now serving in Indiana county as supply pastor of the Hillwood, Penn Run, Nebo churches. Rev. A. M. Stevenson of Ellwood asked to be relieved of his young people's work in the presbytery, and Rev. Shoemaker was appointed in his place.

The United Promotions committee made announcement concerning the spiritual crusade to be opened in the presbytery by A. F. McGarr in September, 1939.

Rev. Shoemaker conducted the noontide devotions and delivered an excellent sermon on "Moral Re-formation."

The invitation of First church, Sharon, was accepted and it is there that Shenango Presbytery will convene on June 27.

Tax Bonus For Employers Urged In Pennsylvania

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 19.—Employers who provide more regular employment for their workers would get a tax bonus, if a bill introduced in the general assembly by Sen. Weldon B. Heyburn, Delaware county farmer, becomes law.

On the other hand, employers who do not or cannot reduce layoffs and irregularity of employment would be taxed only at the highest rate provided by law, Heyburn proposed.

The bill would be subject to a minimum tax rate of one per cent. Pointing out that the bill is calculated to end "free-riding" on the state unemployment compensation fund, Heyburn explained that employers who operate most efficiently no longer will be subsidizing those industries which cause the heaviest drain on the fund.

Pennsylvania and Maryland now are the only states lacking a plan to help regulate employment, according to Sen. Heyburn. In the event of its adoption, he said, the bill will widen the scope of unemployment compensation for workers.

Grant Several

Says New Deal Does Not Want U. S. Prosperity

(International News Service)
WEIRTON, W. Va., April 19.—Ernest T. Weir, chairman of the National Steel corporation and vitriolic critic of the New Deal, was on record today with another blast against the Roosevelt administration.

The New Deal, he asserted in an address here, does not want recovery because such resumption of normal operations would hurt the political power of the "White House clique".

Too, he continued, America could have a national income approximating $100,000,000,000 annually if the steady progress of the past century and a half had not been retarded during the past 10 years by hampering taxes and loss of business "incentive".

"Why should investors take great risks for no return, or at best a small return when they cannot be sure that business as we know it today, or even that their form of government as they know it today, will exist tomorrow?" he questioned.

The present administration, he charged, could promote recovery by removing obstacles to private investment.

NEW CASTLE NEWS

AT JAMAICA—Horses sprint for home at Jamaica, N. Y., track with Pilot Biscuit, the winner, out in front by four lengths.

Epworth, Church League Champions Honored At Dinner

Close To 200 Gather At Epworth Church To Honor Fine Young Basketball Team

Members Of Team Awarded Medals; Plaques Are Also Presented To Champs

A tureen dinner, befitting the truly great champions that they have turned out to be, was given the members of the Epworth M. E. church basketball team last night in the church dining hall, with close to 200 gathered around the tables.

For three straight years the Epworth team has won the New Castle church league championship, and the boys are not the only champions in the church, the women who prepared those steaming well filled tasty tureens, are tops in the cooking field.

Richards As Toastmaster
The eating end of the evening's program out of the way and there were none left the tables hungry believe me, V. O. Potter, general chairman of the banquet arose and after a few brief remarks introduced the toastmaster of the evening, Bart Richards.

Mr. Richards with his ready wit and humor interspersed now and then with a few heavier thoughts handled the role of toastmaster in his own untouchable manner.

Opening the speaking program was Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church and president of the New Castle Church Basketball league.

Fine Speeches
Dr. Bennett was followed by Miss Eve McCurdy, pretty young daughter of Rev. McCurdy who subbed for her father who is confined to his home by illness. The young lady surprised everyone with a very witty talk that carried home quite a few thoughts.

Coach Robert Hoose gave a very fine talk in which he told the members of his team just what he thought about champions and said that the Epworth team will try hard to make it four straight next year for a new church league record. Charles P. "Bugs" Walther, News sports writer spoke very briefly.

Awards Are Made
The following players were given "Y" medal awards: Captain Judd Kennedy, "Bus" Davis, Jack Dunlap, Harold O'Brien, Frank Reed, Wendell Morrison, Bill Hufford, Jack Muse, and Bill Johns. Hite was not present but will be given his award later. The awards were made after a fine talk by Henry McNicholas of the "Y".

Robert L. Meermans, General Secretary of the "Y" made the presentation of the church league plaque to V. O. Potter, general chairman of the banquet, and also a plaque to Captain Judd Kennedy who accepted in behalf of the team.

The delicious food as said before was prepared by the ladies of the George T. Weingartner class and the ladies of the Bart Richards Sunday School class.

The mixed quartet that rendered two very pleasing numbers was composed of Miss Peggy Wimer, Miss Dorothy Ward, Wendell Morrison and "Bus" Davis. The orchestra numbers were rendered by Vance Dufford, Robert Reese, Jack McCullough, Robert Evans, and accompanied by Miss Lavina McConahy. The boys were members of the Don Potter orchestra.

Billy Myers Is Recovering From "Being Beamed"

Injured Cincinnati Shortstop Will Return To Lineup On Saturday

(International News Service)
CINCINNATI, O., April 19.—Almost completely recuperated, Billy Myers, Cincinnati Red shortstop who was hit by a ball in Monday's National League opener, today served notice that he would play again Saturday when the Pittsburgh Pirates return here.

Myers was hit in the head by a ball thrown from third base as he tried to beat out an infield hit. Knocked unconscious, he was carried from the field.

A careful examination revealed that the only injury was a bruised head muscle.

Finley Has 198 To Lead Shoot

Finley with a 198 string out of a possible 200, which is "Some Shooting" at any man's rifle range, led the New Castle Rifle Club last night in a preparatory shoot at the Cathedral range. Right behind Finley was "Doc" Hockenberry with a 196 string which is also good in case you never heard of rifle shooting.

There will be another shoot for the club members at the Cathedral range on Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock. Friday the locals will play at Youngstown.

The results last night: Finley 198, Hockenberry 196, Cooper 190, Weatherby 190, McBride 185, Kilbreath 185, Glitch 189, Hill 186, Douglas 176, Thomas 190, E. Crawford 191, McKeown 181.

DEWEY A. C. TO MEET
There will be a meeting of the Dewey A. C. Friday night at 7:30 o'clock at the club house located on the Lockley playground. The following are asked to attend the meeting: J. Scilla, J. DeJoesph, Adams, Padrice, Giacomin, Gentile, Rubels, Nelson, Glover, Tinsman, Crosetti, and any others wanting a troy with the team this year.

Church Softball League Planned

All churches interested in the formation of a church softball league here this summer, are asked to send their managers or representatives to the "Y" Thursday night at 7:15 o'clock for a meeting with Henry McNicholas, assistant general secretary.

The league will be operated and sponsored by the New Castle Ministerial committee headed by Dr. G. S. Bennett of the First Christian church.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Troubled conditions in Europe recall to the writer the plight of Tony Ross in '14. Europe was about to let guns roar while Tony was preparing to fight Georges Carpentier in Spain. The fight was called off and Tony returned to England after which he embarked for the U. S. When the writer met Ross he was in a New York 49th Street hotel and was sent home to battle Dan Dailey in the Humbert hall here. It was a good fight. Ross won the decision. The battle was staged by Johnny Hughes and Willard Hood. Patsy Brannigan and the writer were in Ross' corner and Hood in Dailey's corner. It was one of the best fights between heavyweights this city has had in the past 30 years.

Several organizations will meet tonight. The Lawrence County Baseball league will meet in the Sport Goods store and the City Tennis league will banquet in the Moose banquet hall. The Moose won the title. Peter Suder of Alliquippa, third baseman, will play with the Newark club in the International circuit. Joe Louis-Jack Roper bout receipts were $87,697, of which Joe got 45 per cent and Roper, 10 per cent. Joe is to come east looking for others who want to test his right as champion.

Unheralded won his first race in six starts, the fourth race, at Bowie yesterday. Center Clint Smith of the New York Rangers, won the Lady Byng trophy for clean play, and Wingman Hector Blake of the Montreal Canadiens won the Dr. David A. Hart trophy for being the most valued member of his team in the National Hockey league.

Joe Archibald of Pawtucket, R. I., won the featherweight boxing championship last night by defeating Leo Rodak of Chicago in 15 none too exciting rounds in Providence. Henry Armstrong vacated the 126-pound championship, hence last night's fight to find a successor.

Louis Dewey, Youngstown, won his first round match with Edward Barnett of Salem, V. Va., in a junior A. A. U. bantamweight boxing tournament match in Philadelphia. Frankie Wallace, Cleveland, 141½, lost to Leonard Del Genio, 144½, New York, in eight rounds in New York.

Hiram college pitcher Bill Boyer, a junior, will play with Youngstown in the Mid-Atlantic loop. The Boston marathon will be staged today. Clarence DeMar, the printer, who is one of the veterans of the game, will participate.

Pife Electric Supply company's five-man bowling team went into the lead with 3,151 pins yesterday. It was the third highest score for a five-man team in the 39 years history of the congress.

Frank (Smoky) Robinson of Oil City, won the nod in three rounds over Gilbert Mayo of Alexandria in the Philadelphia tourney.

Tigers Infield Combination Good

The West Side Tigers second-base and short-stop combination is very good—at short will be Archie "Huck" Davies and at cavoring at second will be Jimmy "Coke" Rote. Davies is considered a fine young ball player and makes hard chances around the short field look easy, while Rote handles himself at second base with the grace of a gazelle and is a whiz at helping Davies to complete double plays. At bat both Davies and Rote can hold their own.

Mrs. Amelia Bloomer introduced the bloomer dress in the middle of the 19th century. A bloomer ball was held in Steubenville, O., shortly thereafter.

Athletic Banquet At Shenango High To Honor Champs

FINE SPEAKING PROGRAM LISTED

There will be something new in after-dinner speaking tonight at Shenango High School as several hundred will gather at 6:30 around the festive tables to honor the Shenango High Girls basketball team, champions of the County League for 1939. Miss Margaret Cowmeadow, a most ardent fan will handle the toastmaster role, for the something new part.

Coach Frank Nocera today announced that Dr. A. P. Vincent of Slippery Rock State Teachers College will be the principal speaker and being on the Slippery Rock coaching staff will no doubt have a very interesting message. Other speakers will be—the coach of the girls championship team Miss Francis Booser, Glenn W. Johnston, principal of Shenango High School will be another speaker as well as Coach Nocera.

Good Program For Golf Party

Event At Sylvan Heights Course Next Week Will Attract Big Crowd

Frank Summers, and his committee on entertainment, are arranging one of the finest of programs for the party planned for members of the Sylvan Heights Golf League and their friends on Thursday evening, April 27, at the Sylvan Heights golf course, which will precede the opening of the league on May 5.

A talking picture, the newest golf film of the Spalding company, which shows the leading golfers making their different shots, with pointers on the fine points of the game will be the chief entertainment of the evening. In addition, there will be music and other forms of entertainment, with a lunch and refreshments.

Tickets for the event have been placed in the hands of the team captains, or they can be secured at the Sylvan Heights golf course or from Chairman Summers.

ONE WAY FLIGHT
(International News Service)

While office employees ducked the shower of glass, the bird continued on its course by crashing through another window.

Wertz To Box Arkett Monday

Long Sought Bout Has Been Arranged; Genaro To Fight Carter Here

BUTLER FAVORITE MEETS KORNESKY

MONDAY'S CALENDAR
Baby Retardo, Ellwood City vs Tony Karido, Youngstown; 112 pounds.
Elmer Cortez, Ellwood City vs Patsy Frazier, Youngstown; 126 pounds.
Larry Regal, Butler vs Mike Kornosky, Youngstown; 160 pounds.
Billy Reale, Princeton vs Buck Chambers, West Pittsburg; 160 pounds.
Frankie Moran, New Castle vs Tommy Bell, Youngstown; 126 pounds.
Frankie Genaro, Golden Glove champion, Youngstown vs Joe Carter, runner-up to Golden Glove title, Youngstown; 147 pounds.
Andy Wertz, Golden Glove champion, Youngstown vs Chuck Arkett, West Pittsburg; 135 pounds.
Mickie Rubin, New Castle vs Richard Main, Golden Glove champion, Youngstown; 175 pounds.

One of the most potent pugilistic calendars yet arranged for the Arena is scheduled for Monday night, three Golden Glove division champs having been booked in addition to a championship runner-up and several knockout sockers.

Richard Main, who captured the 175-pound title in a recent Golden Glove tourney in Youngstown will meet Smack 'Em Down or be Smacked Down Mickie Rubin, the 175 pound champion of Lawrence County.

Rubin flattened Manny Armado of Youngstown with one sock a week ago Monday then succumbed to a technical knockout to Joe Raskowski of Cleveland at Youngstown. Raskowski outwitted Rubin almost 50 pounds, reports state.

While it may have been poor practice to shove Rubin in against the Cleveland, Rubin yearned for fistic action. He was not knocked out cold, but was tired. After being floored the referee stopped the bout in Youngstown.

Having seen Mickie on the wrong side of the fistic delivery Main agreed to fight the local knockout puncher. If Main is as good as his title implies the fans should see an exciting fight because Rubin will f-i-g-h-t.

GIANTS TOPPLE BROOKLYN 7 TO 1

By PAT ROBINSON
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, April 19.—Major League clubs were hopefully ready today for another attempt to open the baseball season on all fronts after yesterday's drenched, bedraggled and curtailed start, which was made in weather that washed out all except three contents and slashed an expected aggregate attendance of 250,000 to a mere 88,279.

Biggest crowd of the day was 47,000 at Detroit for the Chicago White Sox-Tiger battle, while the day's outstanding individual performance was contributed in the New York Giants-Dodger game at Brooklyn, where Zek Bonura began to pay dividends on the Giants' investment in him.

And since the Giants won, 7 to 3, you can readily see that Zek played no little part in spoiling the Dodger inaugural for more than 25,000 rabid Brooklyn fans who braved rain and cold to get a first glimpse of their 1939 hopefuls.

Pirates Defeated
What they saw wasn't half bad at that. The Cardinals spoiled the Pirate opener in Pittsburgh by trimming the home team, 3 to 2, before more than 15,000 fans. Bob Klingner seemed to be headed for a 2-0 shut-out until the Cardinals' twin strong-arm contingent, Joe Medwick and Johnny Mize unloaded in the seventh.

Medwick singled two home with the bags loaded and Mize's long hoist accounted for the winning margin for Bob Weiland.

The Reds and Cubs and Phillies and Bees were washed out and the inconsiderate weather man also spoiled openings between the Red Sox and Yanks. Senators and Athletics and Indians and Browns.

However, 47,000 hardy natives braved a steady drizzle in Detroit to see the Tigers trounce the White Sox, 6-1, in the only American League game.

Minor Judiciary Planning Dinner

Aldermen, Justices And Constables Will Have Dinner Next Month
Members of the Minor Judiciary and Constables Association met in the office of L. C. Mantz, of South Croton avenue, Tuesday evening, with H. E. Strawhecker presiding. Various legislative matters were discussed and plans were outlined for a dinner in connection with the next meeting, L. C. Mantz and J. C. Kennedy being named on the entertainment committee for the event. Resolutions of respect to the memory of the late Ira Minter were adopted at the meeting.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Local sport sidelights... Lawrence County's initial baseball school for youngsters may prove to be the starting point for several future greats of the national pastime. Mike Orlando, a leading sandlotter for many years, will conduct the school on the E. & A. grounds, Mahoningtown. A glove and shoes are the only requisites. This county hasn't turned out a major leaguer and very few American Association or International League players in years. One of the reasons is that little time is spent teaching the growing youngest, the rudiments of the game. During the past several years, quite a few lads have branched out in baseball, due mainly to baseball schools throughout the country. Freddie Hutchinson, up with Detroit is a shining example. Orlando's idea is being supported by local baseball men of the hour. Perhaps the school will be developed on a higher scale in future years. While the school may not produce a Joe DiMaggio, a Jimmy Foxx, a Hank Greenberg or a Joe Gordon, it will benefit the youth to the extent that he will learn the rudiments of the game. With a concrete conception of the fundamentals of the game and, of course, talent, a boy has a greater opportunity of achieving success.

Baseball jottings... 'Tis rumored that Freddie Hutchinson may be converted into a catcher if he falls as a pitcher. The high-priced Detroit rookie was a back stopper during his high school days and a pretty good one. If Ernie Lombardi hits 340 or better this season, he will receive a share of stock from one of the directors of the Cincinnati club. "Lefty" Grove, who ranks with the greatest flingers in the history of baseball, has won 271 big league victories and is striving to make it 300 before storing his monkey suit. Johnny Mize, crack first sacker of the St. Louis Cardinals, wears a glove with a strap around his wrist to prevent the mitt from falling off his hand.

Loose Ends In Baseball... The yearly salary of K. M. Landis, baseball's high commissioner, is reputed to be about $65,000. The New York Yankees are going society. The champs now play contract bridge during their pullman journeys instead of hearts and cribbage. "Boots" Poffenberger, Brooklyn's new pitcher, resents the appellation of "screwball." Freddie Fitzsimmons has probably lost more one run decisions than any other pitcher in the big show. At 37 and starting his 15th campaign the round caster is the oldest twirler in point of service. Denny Galehouse, Boston Red Sox pitcher, one of the best pistol shots in the majors, recently finished ahead of the field in a Sarasota police shoot.

A pinch of this and that... Approximately 150,000 persons are employed at various tracks under the supervision of the English Greyhound Racing Association. Here's the latest stunt in wrestling: At Marinette, Michigan, the artists will do their growling and grunting in a ring six-inches deep with dead smelts! Juan Belmonte, one of the greatest Spanish bull fighters was paid an average fee of $3,000 for a fight. Golf balls will bear different colored dots this year. A Cincinnati bowler recently rolled nine strikes and wound up with a 120 score. In the third, sixth and ninth frames he rolled both balls down the gutter instead of the alley.

FROM ME TO YOU
By MESEALL

We see by the papers that the snow has returned to the Middle West . . . that is a good place for it to return to and we hope that it blows itself out on the lone waste land. It's time for spring to come and warm the earth. Flowers are blooming and the grass is shivering. But come to think of it . . . it wasn't so many years ago that we had snow in May . . . can anyone remember that?

Several communications have reached this desk concerning the change from Eastern Standard time to Daylight Savings time. One delegation said they represented the clerks from local stores. But just for our own use what do you folks think about Daylight Savings time? It's about time to change if a change is in order. Surrounding towns plan on changing within a week or two. What does city council think?

If the air would contain some drying qualities it wouldn't be long until the golf courses throughout the city would be overflowing with white pill seekers. We have a hunch that more golf than ever will be played this year. It is good exercise and unless a person goes "society" the game really isn't so expensive.

And when the word "society" is mentioned it reminds us of the two women who sat behind us in the show the other night . . . you might have thought they were sitting in the park . . . their conversation was such that no one within fifteen seats could help but hearing . . . "So and so will be here again this summer, she is so nervous that she can't play contract so she doesn't play bridge at all, guess we will just have to join a club so we can entertain her," and so on until it was time for them to leave . . . Dear Miss Markel; is it proper to turn and say to the conversationalist . . . shut your trap.

William Hart alias Robert Sterling . . . does that register? . . . local boy in Hollywood . . . has a small part in the picture "Blondie Meets the Boss".

The fireman at Central Station are rather disturbed because we talk about the city police so much. No we haven't forgotten the firemen . . . how are those new uniforms coming along? The firemen are going to dress up for the summer season. They want to help New Castle look more appealing to the tourist.

My pocket has been picked! Those blue prints!

Now for a stamp—WH—!

Nothing has happened in the past few days to confirm my suspicion that spies were trying to steal my aerial torpedo plans—HA—HA—FUNNY HOW JUMPY A MAN CAN GET OVER NOTHING.

Millie, dearest—Heart of my heart, light of my life, the world seems brighter today. The sun shines as it has never shone before. My business here is about winding up, and I'm heading home to you.

Firm Tone Is Developed In New York Market During Morning

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, April 19.—The stock market developed a firmer tone today, but trading continued of such modest proportions as to make the day's fluctuations of little significance.

The list was higher at the opening but before the end of the first hour gains had been reduced to a minimum and stocks settled back into a dull and narrow trading range.

Du Pont and Allied Chemical each opened with gains of 2 points, while American Telephone gained almost as much in first half-hour trading. Telephone retained about a point of its early jump, but advances in the two chemicals were cut to fractions.

Air Reduction, Chrysler, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Phillips Morris were up a point or so at their peaks but were unable to hold extreme gains.

Elsewhere, with few exceptions, price changes were meaningless. Sales to noon amounted to only 150,000 shares, indicating a full-day total around yesterday's volume of 440,000.

Commodities were moderately improved, with gains up fractionally and cotton adding almost 25 cents a bale to last night's closing. Rubber and hides were firm, minor staples. Bonds showed no appreciable change.

Legion Junior Baseball League Being Organized

Five Teams To Be Entered And An All-Star Team To Be Selected At Once

ELLWOOD CITY, April 19.—Ellwood City is assured of five local teams in the American Legion Junior Baseball league this summer following a meeting of the Legion committee and managers with Denny Schill, playgrounds director, on Tuesday evening, in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Robert Taylor is county chairman of the league, and others attending were Commander W. P. Simpson, S. R. Berstler, Merit Book, Harry Boudurant and Cy West.

Merchants, Clover Farms, Elks and Manos and managers will be Merle Means, Clover Farms; Norman Pack and David Jones; Merit Book, Merchants; and Bob Robertson, Elks.

Besides these five teams a Legion All-Star team will be selected at the very beginning of the season and in preparation for the district eliminations. Fred Saunders will manage the all-star team. Present rules say two boys on the all-star team may be 18 years of age, but the local committee may adopt a rule making for four boys of 18 years eligible. This will be decided at a meeting to be held next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

The Spalding regulation ball was selected and umpires will be chosen from the Shelby Social team.

In preparation for the opening of the season the J. Wilbur Randolph Post, sponsors of the league, will show the moving picture, "One Hundred Years of Baseball" at the Lincoln high school auditorium on Monday night, May 1, with the public being invited.

Seventeen tables were in play and the attractive prizes for high scores went to Mrs. Frank Lemery and Mrs. John McCarren, for 500; Mrs. Thomas Mulcahy and Mrs. Thomas Barnes, for bridge and the door prizes to Mrs. Chester Dicks and Earl Bark.

For refreshments, the small tables were re-arranged and decorated with spring appointments. Two members were hostesses for each table.

Mrs. Carl Shirley was chairman of the affair and to her is due much credit along with her committee, Mrs. Earl McCandless, Mrs. E. S. Greenleaf, Mrs. Harvey Hartzell, Mrs. S. R. Berstler and Mrs. Howard Stroup.

ELLWOOD CITY, April 19.—On Friday evening, May 5, members of the Progressive class of the First Christian church will hold a combined birthday party with the Loyals Women's class at the church. Plans for this event were made last evening when members of the Progressive class held their April session at the church.

Mrs. H. C. Newton led the devotions and Mrs. John Schrock was in charge of the business hour.

Twenty-three members and the following guests, Mrs. H. C. Newton, Mrs. Anna McKinley, Mrs. A. D. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Porter and Fred Tonic, attended.

At the close of the evening, a refreshing repast was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Schrock and Mrs. John Miles.

Mrs. Gertrude Reno will entertain the members at her home, in Frisco, for the next meeting on Tuesday evening, May 16.

ELLWOOD CITY, April 19.—Arrangements for the annual mothers and daughters banquet were made by members of the True Blue class of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening when they assembled at the church for their April meeting.

Friday, May 19, was selected as the tentative date for the affair to be held at the church. Mrs. George Wilson, the new president, was in charge of the meeting with Mrs. Leroy Pifer leading the devotions.

Games and contests were enjoyed by the 16 members attending with the awards going to Mrs. Pifer, Mrs. Norman Guy and Mrs. Clair Friday.

Mrs. Harold McQuiston, Mrs. Ernest Houk and Mrs. Jack Newton were hostesses and they served a refreshing lunch before members departed to meet again on Tuesday evening, May 16, with the place to be determined.

ELLWOOD CITY, April 19.—Most enjoyable was a luncheon held by members of the Protected Home Circle lodge on Tuesday evening at six o'clock in the First National Bank hall as a feature of their regular meeting.

Fifty members partook of the delicious meal served under the direction of Mrs. Pearl Daugherty. Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Ishman of Sharon and M. M. Henlein of Erie were special guests.

During the meeting plans were made for a dance for members and friends, to be held on Monday evening, April 24, at Camp Coon-E-Que. The Junior lodge held a pleasant social meeting at seven o'clock both groups will meet again on Tuesday, May 2.

Hollywood Is 'Heaven On Earth' To This Girl

By MILTON HARKER
(Copyright 1939, I. N. S.)
HOLLYWOOD, April 19.—To those who know Hollywood, once pastured cows, it is still an overgrown village, a combination of pseudo-Spanish and jiggerbug architecture interspersed with innumerable and inescapable purveyors of hamburgers, nutburgers—and some limburgers.

To Patricia Morison, here only six months, it is heaven on earth. The reason is simple. Hollywood is giving the lovely Miss Morison everything she's wanted all her life. The start of a bright screen career is only one reason why she's happy. She never expected to get here. When she started out on her dramatic career five years ago, she was tested by a Hollywood studio. She'll admit herself she "looked awful" in that. A year ago, when she was singing in "The Two Bouquets" in New York, Paramount came along and wanted to test her again. She expected that would be awful, too. Instead, it turned out perfectly, and Pat arrived in October to begin work in "Persons in Hiding." The picture clicked, particularly on the British Isles, for Miss Morison is of English, Irish and Scotch descent, her mother being born in Dublin and her father in Belfast. Since then, Pat's played in "Tim From Missouri" and "The Magnificent Fraud" and the studio is planning bigger and better things for her.

The screen contract has given Pat something more than her first touch of fame and fortune. It has permitted a city girl to turn into a country girl, something she's always wanted to be. She and her mother have just moved into a Beverly Hills home, with plenty of lawn and flowers around it.

Even when she lived in New York, where she spent all her life except five years of childhood in London, Pat tried to get near lawns and flowers. She and her family lived either near Central Park or Gramercy Park, but she ruefully admits there wasn't much privacy in either of those.

Now she gets up early, putters around her own garden and takes long walks in the hills.

There are a lot of other things you can do in the country. Pat is going to learn to do.

Sunday she took her first riding lesson.

She wants to learn to swim as well as Ginger Rogers, Bette Davis and some of the other stars. Her stroke now is rather an old-fashioned, old-lady like method of getting through the water. It barely permits her to keep her nose above the waves and there are plenty of big waves in our Pacific ocean.

She's going to skip tennis, but she wants to play golf.

She's also taking up painting in oils. Before she became an actress, Pat studied art. She worked in charcoal and water colors. She always wanted to work in oils, but she never had a chance before.

Man Is Killed By Pennsy Train

SHARPSVILLE, Pa., April 19.—A Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train killed John Hanahan, 39, of South Fourth street, as he was walking on the tracks at the foot of Twelfth street on Tuesday.

James Blue, engineer of the train, said Hanahan stepped into the path of the locomotive just as it reached the point where he was walking.

Relatives said Hanahan, Sharon Steel Corporation employee, who had been ill since March 3, and who recently was released from a hospital at Mercer, was accustomed to take short walks along the railroad tracks in an effort to regain his strength.

He leaves his mother, Mrs. Bridget Fye; a brother, James Hanahan, and a step-sister, Miss Katherine Fye.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

"Take that nasty bug away or I'll scream."
There are 600,000 different types of insects.
Only a few hundred are injurious. The injurious insects destroy crops and food.
The termites may undermine the house.
Most insects are man's allies. Insects pollinate our plants and fruit trees.
Silk, lacquer and honey come from insects.
The good little insects eat the injurious kind.
Ladybugs feed on plant lice. Entomologists pit insect against insect.
Such practice is known as biological control.
